
Contents

List of figures	viii
List of contributors	ix
1 Introduction: reflecting upon the development of participatory action research and community development efforts Randy Stoecker and Adrienne Falcón	1
PART I STRUCTURES AND PROCESSES FOR INTEGRATING PARTICIPATORY ACTION RESEARCH AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT
2 Flipping the script: community-initiated urban research with the Liberal Arts Action Lab Megan Brown, Jack Dougherty, and Jeff Partridge	23
3 Toward a community development science shop model: insights from Peterborough, Haliburton and the Kawartha Lakes Randy Stoecker, Todd Barr, and Mark Skinner	43
4 Elevating community voices Jenice Meyer and Katelyn Baumann	60
5 Sociocultural intervention as a resource for social transformation in Cuban communities of the twenty-first century Manuel Martínez Casanova and Adrienne Falcón	80
PART II ORGANIZING COMMUNITIES
6 Community organizing for environmental change: integrating research in support of organized actions Dadit G. Hidayat and Molly Schwebach	99
7 The birth of a community of practice in Québec to support community organizations leading participatory action research as a tool for community development: what it teaches us Lucie Gélinaeu, Sophie Dupéré, Marie-Jade Gagnon, Lyne Gilbert, Isabel Bernier, Nicole Bouchard, Julie Richard, and Marie-Hélène Deshaies	118
8 The centrality of storytelling at the nexus of academia and community organizing in rural Kentucky Nicole Breazeale, Dana Beasley-Brown, Samantha Johnson, and Alexa Hatcher	139

PART III BUILDING ORGANIZATIONS AND NEIGHBORHOODS

- 9 Putting theory into practice: leveraging community-based research to achieve community-based outcomes in DeLand, Florida 160
Maxwell Droznin, Kelsey Maglio, Asal M. Johnson, Cristian Cuevas, and Shilretha Dixon
- 10 From mission to praxis in neighborhood work: lessons learned from a three-year faculty/community development initiative 180
Laura L. O'Toole, Nancy E. Gordon, and Jessica L. Walsh
- 11 Early childhood wellness through asset-based community development: a participatory evaluation of Communities Acting for Kids' Empowerment 200
Farrah Jacquez, Michael Topmiller, Jamie-Lee Morris, Alexander Shelton, Cynthia Wooten, Lakisha A. Best, Alan Dicken, Monica Arenas-Losacker, Giovanna Alvarez, Crystal Davis, and Shanah Cole
- 12 The complexities of participatory action research: a community development project in Bangladesh 218
Larry Stillman, Misita Anwar, Gillian Oliver, Viviane Frings-Hessami, Anindita Sarker, and Nova Ahmed

PART IV GROWING YOUTH POWER

- 13 Youth participatory action research as an approach to developing community-level responses to youth homelessness in the United States: learning from Advocates for Richmond Youth 240
M. Alex Wagaman, Kimberly S. Compton, Tiffany S. Haynes, Jae Lange, Elaine G. Williams, and Rae Caballero Obejero
- 14 Volunteerism as a vehicle for civil society development in Ukraine: a community-based project to develop youth volunteerism in a Ukrainian community 260
Danielle Stevens, Tetiana Kidruk, and Oleh Petrus
- 15 Design Your Neighborhood: the evolution of a city-wide urban design learning initiative in Nashville, Tennessee 282
Kathryn Y. Morgan, Brian D. Christens, and Melody Gibson

PART V RESPONDING TO CRISIS

- 16 Rethinking participatory development in the context of a strong state 303
Ming Hu
- 17 Tracing power from within: learning from participatory action research and community development projects in food systems during the COVID-19 pandemic 322
Laura Jessee Livingston

18	The information and knowledge landscapes of mutual aid: how librarians can use participatory action research to support social movements in community development Alessandra Seiter	342
PART VI EXPANDING OUR THINKING
19	Be and build the city: an experience of sociopraxis in Cuenca, Ecuador Ana Elisa Astudillo and Ana Cecilia Salazar	360
20	Leading with locally produced knowledge: development in Jemna, Tunisia Ihsan Mejdi and Celeste Koppe	381
21	Relationship as resistance: partnership and vivencia in participatory action research José Wellington Sousa	396
22	Re-storying participatory action research: a narrative approach to challenging epistemic violence in community development Daniel Bryan and Chelsea Viteri	417
	Index	436